

FAN-FIC WRITING

Fanfiction is an event that makes you the storyteller. Molding an event of your own accord is what a bibliophile and a cinephile would be delighted to do. Different narratives, of different characters or the entire plot, are in your hands now. So, let the imagination gush through your mind and end up in a narrative that might inspire the writer in you.

Team size: Individual participation

Mode: Online

Last date of submission:

Prizes worth 5k

Rules:

The participants have to submit a document within a specific time frame. All of the entries must be in English. The word limit is 1000 words, except for the title. Only 75 grace words would be allowed. Participants must write the content for the duration of the event, and no previously published work shall be considered for entry. Explicit violence and sexual references shall not be entertained. Glorification of sexual Violence, incest, self-harm, and criminal activity are not allowed.

Submission:

Only one submission per participant is allowed. Only pdf form only. The filename of the entry should be the same as your content's title.
